

Food Safety Sanitarians needed for Sacramento, CA & Salt Lake City, UT

Kay, a division of Ecolab, is the premier supplier of cleaning and sanitation products, programs, and services to food retail industries. We are committed to building lasting relationships that distinguish Kay as a premier business partner. This full-time, professional food safety position is responsible for conducting store inspections and generating audit reports, working with store and quality assurance managers to develop solutions to problem areas, and training customer associates on proper food safety procedures.

RESPONSIBILITIES:

- Provide food safety audits following the FDA Food Code and applicable state food codes, as directed by customer food safety and sanitation guidelines
- Kay will support and enhance your career through reimbursement of professional fees and industry association dues and continuing education credits

QUALIFICATIONS:

- Possess a current Registered Environmental Health Specialist/Registered Sanitarian (REHS/RS) credential
- Consideration will be given to candidates with a BS degree in Environmental Health Sciences or meet the academic requirements to be eligible to become REHS/RS within one year
- Availability to travel overnight up to 25% percent of the time
- Bilingual ability is a plus

Please send your resume to Carol.metheny@ecolab.com or Brent.loveland@ecolab.com

For more information, please visit www.ecolab.com/careers/ Click on Search career opening. Scroll down to keywords and type in "Kay". This will show our open positions and job descriptions. Post your resume to the positions you are interested in pursuing.